

Carl A. Crow, Jr.

Carl's practice includes wills, trusts, estate planning, probate, trust administration and real estate. He has earned an AV-Preeminent™ peer review rating from Martindale-Hubbell. Carl has served as Prosecuting Attorney for the 18th Judicial Circuit East of the State of Arkansas, as Hot Springs City Attorney, as Assistant Attorney General for the State of Arkansas serving in the Antitrust and Litigation Divisions, and as a Special Associate Justice of the Arkansas Supreme Court.

His clients include real estate companies, property owners' associations, trust companies, insurance firms and manufacturing companies.

Carl has presented at continuing legal education programs on probate and estate planning topics.

He is a licensed title insurance agent, and a licensed property, casualty and life insurance agent.

Carl is a graduate of the University of Arkansas School of Law and Hendrix College. He is admitted to practice in the State of Arkansas, before the United States District Courts for the Western and Eastern Districts of Arkansas, and before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit. Carl is a member of the American Bar Association, the Arkansas Bar Association, the Garland County Bar Association, and the Arkansas Land Title Association.

Carl and his wife, Lynne, are the parents of two sons and are the grandparents of three grandchildren. His hobbies include golf, hunting and fishing.